

RED HEAD TOLD TO GO BACK TO FLA. BY JUDGE BIESTER

Patricia E. Whitfield Drove Oakford Man Back Home

THEN TOOK THE CAR

Alvin B. Cadwallader Didn't Want To Prosecute After He Got His Car

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Apr. 5—Red-haired Patricia Ethel Whitfield alias Scotty Jones, a Florida divorcee, who has a prison record of arrests that covers three typewritten pages, was on her way back home today, by request.

The 38-year-old Floridian pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Biester in the Bucks county court to a charge of operating an automobile without the owner's consent. A charge of larceny of automobile was not pressed by the Commonwealth.

The prosecutor, Alvin B. Cadwallader, 62, of Oakford, Bucks county, didn't even want to prosecute after he got his car back, but District Attorney Willard C. Curtin refused to withdraw the charges.

Mrs. Whitfield, who has spent a good portion of her life in carnival work and in trouble with the law, met Cadwallader in Miami, Florida, in January.

Cadwallader testified that he had been visiting a brother in Florida, who was ill and that he made a deal with Mrs. Whitfield to drive his car, to serve as a chauffeur. Finally they made an agreement that she drive him back to his Bucks county home in March, to see his wife and pay his income tax.

Cadwallader, whose wife was in court, told Judge Biester that the woman drove him back to Bucks county and they stopped at the Oakford Hotel, several blocks away from his home.

The prosecutor said that he told Mrs. Whitfield that she could use the car while he went home to see his wife, but that he would be back to the hotel within two hours.

Cadwallader returned two hours later but Mrs. Whitfield and Cadwallader's car were gone.

Philadelphia Park Guard found Mrs. Whitfield asleep in the automobile on Roosevelt Boulevard later in the day, and after State Police from Langhorne had advised

Complete Plans For Monthly Model Contests

Representatives of the Bristol Aeromodelers and Croydon Cloud-busters took part in a meeting of Bucks County Federation of Model Clubs Monday evening at Quakertown.

Final plans for the monthly model contests were arranged. The first contest is scheduled for June 4th. All such contests are to be sanctioned by the Academy of model aeronautics and all competitors must be licensed by that organization. It is said. Events for these affairs will be hand-launched glider, standard speed, stunt, beauty, and team racing. Each contest will begin at nine a. m., and end at five p. m. Winners will be determined by a unique system that will enable all age groups to have an equal opportunity. The first such contest will be held at Quakertown and the next possibly at Bristol or Hatboro.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

The Government, which for years has been trying to deport Harry Bridges, longshoreman union leader, as a Communist, won a major victory yesterday. A Federal jury in San Francisco, after nearly ninety-five hours, convicted him and two co-defendants on all charges of perjury and conspiracy to defeat the naturalization laws. They will be sentenced on Monday. Two defense lawyers were sentenced to jail for contempt.

A Senate subcommittee asked Senator McCarthy to turn over all information on which he based his charges of Communist infiltration into the State Department. The Wisconsin Republican said he would not disclose the source of his private information. Three executive officials, under Presidential orders, ignored committee subpoenas for loyalty files. The Commerce Department refused such files to another Senate group investigating Michael J. Lee, head of its Far Eastern Division. Senate and House conferees agreed tentatively on strong security safeguards for the National Science Foundation program but relieved the F. B. I. of having to clear employees and scholars.

FOUR YEARS OF CORRUPTION AND PLUNDERING FACE STATE IF FINE AND DUFF WIN, KUNKEL CHARGES IN SPEECH OVER RADIO HOOK-UP

HARRISBURG, Apr. 5—Representative John C. Kunkel, candidate for nomination on the Republican ticket for U. S. Senator, last night, spoke over a state-wide hook-up. In his speech Kunkel charged that election of Governor James H. Duff to the Senate and his running mate, former Judge John S. Fine as governor would "spell a four-year field day for corruption, a four-year license to pillage and plunder."

The following is text of a radio address by Congressman Kunkel:
Fellow Republicans:
Tonight in formally opening my campaign for United States Senator I shall discuss the matter which I believe has now become the supreme issue of this primary election. That issue is: Are the decent-minded men and women of Pennsylvania going to control the outcome of the election — or a band of arrogant state and county bosses? Can there be any greater issue? The people of Pennsylvania are decent. They want honest government. They despise political phonies. They abhor pillage and plunder. But if they are to be cheated of their wishes, if they are to be traded out of their right to name their own public officials, then what does it matter what the Pennsylvania voters think on any other subject? They then will have lost completely any real control over their government.

I charge Governor Duff with having made the most brazen political deal in Pennsylvania history — a bargain to hand control of the state

CURRENT SUM $22,400

NEWTOWN, Apr. 5—H. Russell Pickering has contributed $2,000 to bring to $22,400 the current total in the six-month-old drive to establish in Newtown the Neshaminy Valley Youth Center. It was reported yesterday.

I'm very happy to see the progress made in the last few months by the youth center organization," wrote Mr. Pickering, North Lincoln Ave., in a note accompanying the contribution, "and glad to accept a share in supporting this worthwhile project."

Expressing the thanks of the whole adult group which is sponsoring the renovation of a historic foundry on North State Street to make a spacious youth and community center, Stanley Sutton Jr. commented last night: "It's very gratifying to see civic-spirited people continuing to help push the fund total over the top. I want to say a public and sincere thanks to Mr. Pickering for the recent gift." He added that his fund raising committee felt confident that the remaining funds necessary to remodel and equip the new center would be forthcoming soon.

PUSH PLANS TO RID AREA OF MOSQUITOES

Chemicals Being Donated Rohm & Haas Company

NAME EXTERMINATOR

The insect and mosquito control committee of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce is pushing forward its plans to rid the community of insects and mosquitoes this season. If the insects are not entirely driven from the area they will be at least controlled to such an extent that they will cease to become a nuisance and spreaders of disease, it is believed.

The committee is headed by Herman Silber of the Superior Zinc Corporation, and he announced today that Joseph Smith, biology teacher at Bristol high school, has been engaged as the exterminator for the committee. Mr. Smith is making contacts for portable back sprayers to be used in the marsh control work. Airplane spraying concerns are also being contacted for work over larger areas where feasible.

Dr. Frank Maughan, of Rohm & Haas, is preparing the chemical formula to be used, and the chemicals are to be donated by Rohm & Haas Company.

The work will be in progress during the latter portion of this month and continue on until October.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Klerman (Distributed by International News Service)

The circus opens today but for most taxpayers, clowns have ceased to be a novelty.

And reading some of those Washington revelations has kind of fed us up on freaks.

Stunts on the high wire are just a bore to anybody who has followed foreign policy and the fellow who holds off a careful of lions with a chair has nothing to whip an aggressor with a bomb that hasn't been made.

The elephants may draw a few people . . . old-timers who remember the Republican party.

I see the Republicans are thinking of buying a building in Washington to be closer to the Capitol . . . What they really need is a building closer to the White House.

But they'll come back strong some day . . . undoubtedly in a year when they wish they could stick the Democrats with the victory.

SPRING OFFENSIVE

Out of a clear sky the Italian government announced drastic measures to maintain public order against communist agitation that had taken on the appearance of a calculated campaign to create chaos. Since then enough has happened to indicate that the steps Premier de Gasperi decided on were justified and necessary.

The general strike called by the communist-led Italian Confederation of Labor was a protest, so it was said, against the government's decision to augment the nation's police forces and to give provincial authorities the power to ban public demonstrations for a period of three months. But the implication that the communists were provoked into reprisals carries no weight in the light of the events that followed the 12-hour walkout.

In San Severo, a town of 45,000 population in the province of Foggia, local communist leaders decided to prolong the strike as a protest against the death of a striker killed during the rioting at Parma. The continuation turned into a small insurrection. Four thousand armed men threw up barricades in the streets and it required detachments of soldiers, using five armored cars, to get the situation in hand. A score of policemen were wounded.

This affair was hardly a pitched battle, for it is evident that police and troops acted with restraint.

Two new factors are worth noting. Disturbances have been taking place in the agricultural south as well as the industrial north, and the communists have suddenly started spending money on a lavish scale. No one should be surprised if the trouble in Italy proves to be only one part of a larger design.

DREAMS TO ORDER!

To the wistful plea, "I can dream, can't I?" science may soon be able to retort, "You can't." Dr. Wilder G. Penfield, outstanding brain surgeon, is startling doctors at John Hopkins by accounts of stopping dreams by applying small electric currents directly to areas of the brain during surgery.

The same method can also cause dreams. Patients under local anesthesia reported that certain dreams were turned on and off when certain areas were stimulated.

If the method is perfected, people may be able to select their own dreams. Stimulation of the same area always produces the same dream, Dr. Penfield found. The only catch is that so far the method cannot produce any "new" dream. A dream has to be stored away in advance in order to be called forth by electric stimulation.

If a brain has stored nothing but nightmares, a doctor cannot make its owner dream he's Superman.

Many persons prefer the old-fashioned notion that a man's dreams are his own. This discovery brings the human race a step closer to a George Orwell world in which the government decides what dreams its subjects will be permitted to have.

Four Years of Corruption Face State if Fine, Duff Win

government over to a political corruptionists in return for their financial support and their controlled votes on primary election day.

It is political machine money and boss-controlled votes which are being counted on to put Duff into the United States Senate and to put Judge Fine into the Governor's office in Harrisburg.

I so indict Governor Duff in the court of public opinion. Let him stand up and answer to the Republican voters of Pennsylvania. Let him deny the charges, if he dares.

Let him deny that his hand-picked candidate for the Governorship is, and has been for years, that abomination of public life, a political judge, who in flagrant defiance of ethics and decency has been the boss of Luzerne County, which has the most corrupt political machine to be found in Pennsylvania.

Let Governor Duff deny that election of the Duff-Fine ticket would spell a four-year field-day for corruption—a four-year license to pilage and plunder.

Let him deny that 40,000 state employees are being bludgeoned and maced to support the Duff-Fine ticket, under Duff's well-known threat that "heads will roll." Let him deny that the backbone of his support comes from corrupt county machines, of which Delaware is an outstanding example.

Governor Duff wears upon his brow the tinsel crown of phony liberalism. But don't let that fool you. The true emblem of the Duff-Fine hoodie-boys is the black flag of political piracy. The force which holds this band together is the cohesive power of public plunder.

With regard to Judge Fine, I speak by the book. I have just finished reading two surveys of conditions in Luzerne County. When it became obvious that Duff would succeed in driving Fine down the throats of his Republican following I decided to learn the truth about the Fine machine. I sent two independent groups of investigators into Luzerne County. Each came back with the same picture of which racketeer does what, and who collects the money, and what happens to it.

Let me tell you that during Fine's reign racketeering in Luzerne County has been turned into big business. It's been organized and systematized. There is a take of about a million dollars in a normal year, cut and distributed according to plan. A percentage goes into hoodie-chests controlled by the political machine.

The Luzerne County machine milks the slotmachine and lottery rings, the gambling dens, the whiskey and beer trade, the number games, and the other rackets. Exploitation and shakedowns have been reduced to a fine art. Pipe-lines into the state police and the liquor board give ample warning if anyone from the outside tries to interfere.

The police records show that in Luzerne County, a man can get away with practically anything, if he travels in the right political circles. Unsolved crimes, and unprosecuted suspects, have become commonplace.

While my investigators were in Luzerne County, something more interesting happened. There was a sudden series of raids. The underworld was startled but they soon figured the answer.

The Luzerne household was being put in order for company. Now that their boss had been slated for the Governorship, it would never do to let visitors see the normal state of affairs. So the dirt was hurriedly swept under the rug. The lid was clamped down. The whitewash brush got busy.

The political corruption is no secret to the people who live in Luzerne County. They know about it. They know who the men are that serve as "bag-men." They know who the lieutenants are, and the spokesmen. And they know who it is presides over the whole, like a spider in his web.

The matter has often been discussed in the Luzerne County press and by public speakers. It has been a campaign issue in the county over and over again, and to the credit of the good people in Luzerne County may I add that whenever this has been the principal issue, Judge Fine has lost. If you doubt anything I say tonight, let me suggest that you ask Judge Fine's neighbors what they think.

If a corrupt statewide machine on the Luzerne pattern ever gets set up at your state capitol, you may be powerless to tear it out—but you can do this: you can head it off, and keep the racketeers from taking over your state government.

The way to head off corrupt political control of your state government is to paste it in your hat today that on May 16th you are going to the polls and vote against the Duff-Fine ticket.

Pennsylvania, awake! Do you want racketeers and hoodlums running your state government?

Do you want the spawn of the underworld to have more to say than you do about who your public officials are going to be?

Are you going to let a public servant buy his way into the United States Senate with a promise of giving the political harpies a four-year plunder-license at Harrisburg?

Pennsylvanians—stand up and be counted!

Are you for decency in public affairs—or are you on the side of the syndicate of sin which is trying to take over?

And what about those who think of themselves as "liberals" and "progressives"? Where do they stand in this fight? Are they going to join hands with the corrupt county bosses and a whiskey lobby and a railroad lobby and a contractors lobby—just because Duff pretends to be interested in liberalism?

There are well-intentioned persons in Pennsylvania who have been deceived. To them the word "progressive" is a hypnotic drug. They have been reading Duff's publicity for so long that it has fooled them. They have been led to believe he is too noble a figure to form a partnership with agents of corruption just to advance his ambitions. They don't realize that the publicity staff which has built Duff up was hired with the public's money.

They are beginning to see that this phony build-up of liberalism was torn to tatters at Hershey when Duff revealed his true character by sandbagging state employees into a reluctant vote of approval for his candidacy and that of John Fine. The macing and intimidation of the state payroll which have taken place since then reveal Duff's true character even more clearly.

To these good people, I can only beg them to open their eyes. Do they really think that the trail to better government is going to be blazed by John Fine and John McClure? Don't they realize that the success of Duff's plan would turn the state capitol into a whited sepulchre of corruption?

What about Duff-Fine running mates? Have not some of these men awakened to a sense of dismay over the company they are in? I cannot tell you what is in the mind or heart of another person—but I can point out one significant development.

Within the past few days, one of the associates on the Duff-Fine ticket, John C. Bell, found it necessary to publish the following statement, and I quote:

"Every person with principles and ideals wants our courts to be kept out of politics, for they know that otherwise it is difficult to get justice or a fair deal." End of quotation.

Just think those words over. Do they not constitute the most ringing indictment of Judge Fine's career which could be imagined? And they come, not from an opponent, but from his own running mate!

Governor Duff, I call upon you to come clean with the voters.

How could it be possible for you to serve for four years as Attorney General, and then for more than three years as Governor—and not know all about the unholy political gang which operates in Luzerne County under the political leadership of Judge Fine? A plea of ignorance by you would be a confession of your incompetence.

Do you dare tell Pennsylvania that you picked your candidate for Governor without looking into his record? Your state police and your other investigators could have told you all about him. All you really had to do was to read the newspapers.

How could anyone occupy for four years the post of Attorney General, with all its special deputies and investigators, and then sit in the Governor's office for three years, with the whole state police and other sources of information at his beck and call, and still not know the score on a matter of such general public knowledge?

Is this the field where the men and women of Pennsylvania are to look for the secret of why you and your underlings of corruption were so insistent that the choice be Judge Fine and no one else?

Governor Duff, earlier I invited you to meet me in a series of dignified public debates on the great public issues. You ran like a rabbit from the suggestion. I call on you to stop weaseling and dodging. Stand and reply—or let your continued evasions be recognized for what they are—a confession, and plea of guilty!

Your story, as I understand it from your cry-baby speeches, is that we Republicans can't win this year without you.

Most solemnly I warn Pennsylvanians we can't win WITH you. Your Duff-Fine expedition is a voyage to nowhere. If it survives this spring, it will be torpedoed next fall. If either of you winds up on the Republican ticket next November, the Democrats will slaughter all of us.

Governor Duff, answer this question for the Republican voters of Pennsylvania. If my two brief surveys of the Fine machine could uncover the whole broad picture of vice and extortion and illicit protection there—what do you think the Democrats could find to ruin us with next fall, with the FBI and the Department of Justice and the Income Tax investigators to help them?

Governor Duff, you favored me the other day with a tirade in which you used personal abuse and red herrings as substitutes for facts and issues. That's all right. You can make your campaign on whatever terms you wish. But I am on your trail. I will be after you on the radio, the public platform and in the press.

Between now and May 16, I propose to corner you and make you answer for trying to trade the state over into the hands of the cohorts of corruption, as the price you are willing to pay to try to go to Washington.

Thank you and good night.

Mercury Reaches Eighty; Residents Shed Wraps

An early taste of summer weather was experienced by Bucks Countians yesterday and throughout the night, the mercury going as high as 80 late yesterday afternoon. But between seven and eight o'clock this morning there was a drop of 12 degrees as a stiff, cool breeze sprung up.

Yesterday's high temperatures caused people to shed coats and jackets, and residents took advantage of the warm sunshine for outdoor activities.

The range between eight yesterday morning and the same hour this morning was from 51 to 80 degrees. There was a trace of rain listed this morning at Rohm & Haas Co. physics laboratory.

"Money" is Subject of Chas. Wenner Before Club

ANDALUSIA, Apr. 5 — Charles Wenner, treasurer of Bensalem Rotary Club, spoke to the members last evening in King Hall, on the subject of "Money."

Mr. Wenner traced the history of paper currency to when it was first issued in 1690 in the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

"It was issued there until 1695. There was then a lapse until 1861 when it was issued by contract with either the American Bank Note Company or the National Bank Note Company. From 1876 to the present day it is issued by the Bureau of Engraving, Washington, D. C. Up to 1865 all paper currency was signed by hand with pen and ink. Short pieces of silk, nylon and rayon threads are used in making paper for today's currency. This paper is closely guarded before it is printed and each piece must be accounted for. Counterfeiters try putting lines on the notes with a pen to simulate the silk threads," stated Mr. Wenner.

He mentioned that "Martha Washington is the only woman to have her picture on the face of any currency; hers was on the one dollar bill."

"During the Civil War there was a shortage of coins, this caused the issuing of fractional currency, such as the five-cent note and the 25-cent note," the speaker stated.

Mr. Wenner quoted the late Chief of Secret Service Houghton in saying that people, especially women, will closely examine the merchandise they are purchasing but they won't even count the change they receive. That is the way counterfeit money is passed.

Mr. Wenner displayed some wooden nickles and quarters that were issued around the same time.

Following the meeting, a short service was conducted in the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer by the Rev. Edward Finch, Andalusia. Guests present were Joseph McCarthy, Andalusia, and Frank Garraque, St. Petersburg, Fla. President William States presided.

ELECTRICITY PRODUCES MORE GOODS IN LESS TIME

TO-DAY men produce more and will produce still more in the years ahead. This fact underlies our constantly rising living standards.

Less work, more leisure, bigger returns, more goods to own and enjoy! That's our present good fortune. Electricity has played a star role in this drama of man's progress. In factories, as in homes and stores, more and more things are done faster and better at the snap of a switch. This greater helpfulness has brought great demands for electricity, and your neighbors who operate P.E. have it calculated for years to come . . . not only how much electricity will be needed, but where it will be needed in this five-county area we serve. Our long-range expansion program assures plenty of power to achieve all the fine things in the years ahead.

GEORGE SCHOOL NINE TO FACE LAMBERTVILLE

GEORGE SCHOOL, Apr. 5 — Coach Edward Thode's baseball team faces Lambertville High at George School Saturday to open a 35-event spring schedule in three George School sports.

An unknown quantity only a few days after spring training began, the nine has several promising newcomers on the roster, as well as Walt Andrew, Phil Cane, Bill Loucks, Bob Maust, Dick Packer, Bill Rusch and Dick Townsend from the 1949 varsity squad.

The 14-game slate of the George School baseball team includes, in addition to Lambertville and a tilt at Hun School next Tuesday, games with Pennsbury High, Bryn Athyn Academy, Girard College, Germantown Academy, Cheltenham High, Lawrenceville School, Haverford School, Episcopal Academy, Hamilton High, Peddie School, Collingswood High and Westtown School. George School had a six-six record in 1949.

The varsity trackmen under Coach Stanley Sutton will open a 12-event card against Lansdale High on April 18, while the tennis team, coached by Ernest "Jim" Seegers, will open against Haverford School April 22, the first of the nine net events.

The progress of an average student could be traced from the first entrance into the school to when he has completed his vocational work and is ready to graduate and enter the world of business. The trip made it possible for the pupils to realize the adjustments that must be made by the deaf person and showed how such problems are solved.

Transportation was provided by private cars driven by Richard Magee, Walter Jamison, Pennell Kirk, and Mr. Austin.

Eight delegates from the Student Council accompanied, by Miss Mary Williams, attended the spring meeting of the tri-county conference at East Greenville high school, March 29. Fourteen high schools were represented from the Bucks, Lehigh and Montgomery County districts.

The program began with registration at one p. m. A welcome speech was made by Donald Moll, East Greenville student council president and a program of entertainment followed.

An address was given by Dr. Oscar Granger, principal of Haverford township high school, after which the meeting adjourned for discussion groups featuring the topics: what should the student council do in order to earn the prestige of its position? Should all school activities be handled through the student council? How to create school spirit through student council? What projects can a small high school undertake during a school year?

A summary of discussion groups was held in the auditorium and the meeting was concluded with the serving of refreshments and dancing to music of the high school band.

the other district will be Edgely. These four, plus Bristol's six wards, will make 10 districts competing.

The soft-ball tournament will be in charge of Henry Morgan; marble contests, Walter Miller; roller skating and hobby contests, Otto Grupp; track and field meet, Harry McClister and Jerry Bloom; poster contest, M. J. Gordon; basketball foul shooting contest, Bloom; talent contest, John Paglione.

Ward leaders are to be named, and these will start their elimination contests several weeks in advance of Youth Week. Teams will be chosen to represent each district in softball and other events; and eliminations will be held for talent contest. Tentative plans call for winding up activities on Saturday, May 27th, with a parade, a show and serving of refreshments.

There will, no doubt, be many in each district entering the talent contest, with eliminations arranged within the districts. Then at the appointed time of the talent show, each district will be entitled to enter one contestant—or 10 contestants in all. During the weeks preceding Youth Week there will be countless contests in the districts—marbles, roller skating, etc.—so that Youth Week will be free for the main contests in each category.

It is estimated by the committee that about 4,000 children will take part in Youth Week affairs.

Charles Richman is chairman of the prize committee; and Stephen Midouhas will head the refreshment committee.

The poster contest will be "run off" ahead of time, and the hope is to have a cut made of the prize-winning poster so that a duplicate will appear on the tags to be worn by the girls and boys in the Youth Week parade. Sections of these tags will entitle the "kids" to refreshments on the 27th of May.

Weekly meetings will be held by the committee, the next being Tuesday, April 11th, at eight p. m., in the Elks home. The present Youth Week committee, plus ward leaders who are to be named, are asked to attend these sessions. Any other individuals interested are also invited to be present.

Look how you save with Dynaflow

FIRST thing you notice, of course, is the bother and effort Dynaflow Drive* saves.

Next, that Dynaflow saves you physically—after long trips you're less tense and tired, more relaxed.

But then, as the miles pile up—and this comes from cold, recorded fact after Dynaflow's two years of public operation—you spot savings you hadn't expected . . .

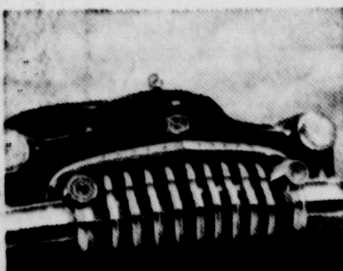

You save on tires—because power application is steady, even. On clutch expense—the usual friction clutch is gone.

You save on transmission maintenance, and the rear-axle expenses likely to go with it. And the way your engine is oil-cushioned against normal shocks and strains shows up in less engine upkeep.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

FOUR-WAY
FRONTEND

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertically replaceable (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

You may well discover another pleasant surprise, too.

We are getting a steadily mounting number of well-satisfied letters about gasoline mileage with Dynaflow cars.

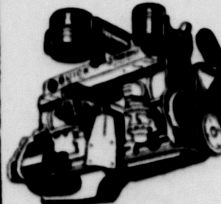

The SPECIAL has shown some records little short of phenomenal. The SUPER is delivering mileage that compares most favorably with gear-shift cars. And the ROADMASTER more than holds its own with cars of its size and bulk.

In short, there's a lot more to please your budget in the 1950 Dynaflow than its new lower price. Refinements over the past two years result in savings that are sizeable over the life of the car.

Knowing that, don't you want us to demonstrate the big side of Dynaflow—the utter smoothness of America's first oil-does-it-all drive?

Only Buick has Dynaflow—and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fender, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

Matchless Team — DYNALOW and F-263

In the Buick beauty pictured here you can have both Dynaflow and Buick's very latest in power. For every 1950 SUPER has the F-263 engine, that lively high-compression stepper that's the big power thrill of the season. Dynaflow Drive is optional equipment at extra cost.
